A must read

By Zamir

This book is a must read for any student of Pakistani history. Though the book was written over thirty years ago, but its conclusion are still valid. It starts from the war of 1857 and ends with the separation of East Pakistan. It narrates the internal dynamics between different classes of Muslims (ulema, politicians, civil servants, military etc.) as well as between Muslims and Hindus. You get a fairly good idea about how the civil servants and military acquired power in Pakistan, how after part of Subcontinent that became part of Pakistan lost most of the business in the 10 weeks between June 1947 and August 1947, this void was replaced by Gujrati businessmen from South Africa and Burma. Again, a must read.
